

WOULD NAME PARKS FOR POLISH HEROES

Petition to Honor Kosciuszko and Pulaski Going to Council

At a meeting of the citizens' committee of the Sacred Heart parish held last evening in the parish hall, a resolution was passed requesting that the two small parks at the end of Broad street be named Kosciuszko and Pulaski in memory of the two valiant Polish soldiers who performed service during the Revolutionary war.

The resolution will be passed on to the common council for voting. The request is that the park at the intersection of Broad and Burritt streets be named Pulaski and the one at Burritt and Clinton streets, Kosciuszko.

A resolution regarding the proclamation of October 11 a holiday has already been presented to the council by Alderman Frank Zapata, and it is looked upon with favor. The day marks the 150th anniversary of the death of General Casimir Pulaski, who died in the battle of Savannah.

Should the resolution concerning the naming of the parks, which bear no names at present, pass the common council, the parks will be dedicated on the day set for the celebration. The public will be invited and leading city officials will be on hand to take part. In the evening a mass meeting will be held, most likely in the auditorium of the Sacred Heart school, at which speeches by prominent citizens will be made and entertainment provided. The entire celebration will be under the auspices of the citizens' committee, comprised of officials of all church and civic societies connected with the Sacred Heart parish.

TARIFF TINKERING NEAR SECOND PHASE

Mills' principal criticism of the present statute was directed at the section applying to the basis of valuation for assessment of ad valorem duties. He said the present reapportionment methods may in certain instances result in the fixing of a value which cannot be properly verified.

He cited the section of the tariff act which directs appraisement of United States value where foreign value cannot be properly determined, but said that the trouble did not lie there. He attributed the fault to the fact that a customs court in an appellate case might rule that a foreign value did exist, even though the appraiser could not properly determine this value. As a result, he told the committee the duty paid would be based on a foreign value "proved" to the court by the submission of affidavits which treasury agents were unable to verify.

He recommended a change whereby the basis of value determined on by the appraising officer, subject to review by the secretary of the treasury, should be applicable throughout all reapportionment proceedings, and he also suggested that the appraiser's valuation be made "prima facie correct on reapportionment."

The repeal of a provision which places an embargo upon the goods of exporters who refuse to allow access to their books for the purpose of determining value was also recommended by Mr. Mills.

EDEL'S DENIAL OF KILLING IS READ

Massachusetts and Connecticut articles he had said were sent him by Mrs. Harrington, he told the women these things had belonged to his wife.

The testimony showed that Edell had also admitted giving a check on Mrs. Harrington's bank account to speaker's proprietor in New Haven. Edell had been shown a picture of Mrs. Harrington's body in her apartment, but he told McGowan he could not recognize her. He described her as "a very nice woman."

Kerrigan then read a statement alleged to have been made by Edell to McGowan on April 6, 1922, while Edell was being brought to New York.

Edell at that time said he had first met Mrs. Harrington in a flirtation in an Eighth avenue cafe in 1920 or 1921. In a statement made in St. Paul in read yesterday, he said they had been introduced.

Edell's last statement denied that he had Mrs. Harrington's wedding ring while he was in the Hotel Taft in New Haven. He said he had given a ring that he owned to a girl in Newark or Philadelphia. He contended that about a week after January 1, 1922, he was in Newark and that he later went west, eventually arriving in St. Paul.

ARTICLES FILED AGAINST HARDY

Judge Accused of Misdemeanors by Being Aimee's Counsel

Sacramento, Cal., Feb. 28 (AP)—Five articles of impeachment including a charge that he knew Aimee Simple McPherson's kidnapping story was untrue when he attempted to have her vindicated by a grand jury, were filed against Superior Judge Carlos R. Hardy of Los Angeles in the state senate today.

The judge's impeachment was ordered by the state assembly after a legislative committee had investigated his acceptance of a $2,500 check from the evangelist in 1922 while her kidnapping story was under investigation. Hardy previously had been ousted from membership in the American Bar association for accepting the money. He has maintained that it was a "free will offering." Mrs. McPherson declared it was a "love offering." Both denied that it had anything to do with her troubles in the courts.

Four of the articles detail the charge that Judge Hardy committed misdemeanors in office by acting as counsel for Mrs. McPherson's Angelus Temple and by his tactics in defending her kidnapping story. The fifth charge is that he issued cards of admission to the trial of William Edward Hickman for the murder of Marian Parker, thus seeking to deprive the defendant of his constitutional right to a public hearing. Hardy disavowed himself as presiding judge in the trial.

The French idea is that if the subject comes up in any form before the experts the French delegates will decline to discuss it saying in effect it is difficult enough for the conference to deal with purely financial matters without complicating its work on political affairs.

It is understood Gustav Stresemann, German foreign minister, intends to bring up the subject at the meeting of the council of the league of nations at Geneva next week and consequently there may be some reaction bearing on the reparations problem among other members of the council.

Increasing attention is being paid to the work of the subcommittee on commercialization of the German reparations. The group is studying carefully the conditions requisite for successful marketing of the reparations loans, particularly that phase concerned with giving subscribers of all countries equal advantages. Divergent laws concerning income tax, inheritance taxes, etc., make this difficult.

This, however, is not insuperable, and the subcommittee is confident of being able to find a way to make the loans adequately attractive to investors of all nations.

COST OF ELECTION TOTALS $16,586,115

money by political groups was urged. No limitation on expenditures was recommended.

"Generally speaking," the report declared, "the responsible political organizations and particularly the national committees of the republicans and democrats have made full effort to comply with the federal corrupt practices act."

The total expenditures did not take into account the money spent by district, county, city, ward and precinct organizations and because of this the report declared that "the total cost of the presidential election was much in excess of the figures shown in this report."

Any effort to determine the exact amount would be mere speculation, it was added.

Senator Stetson, republican, Oregon, the chairman, submitted the committee report to the senate without comment.

Net expenditures of the republican national committee were placed at $4,064,517 and of the democratic national committee at $3,157,453.

The report showed that the democratic national committee borrowed $1,600,000 from the banks and one individual on notes endorsed by John J. Raskob, chairman of the committee, and W. F. Kenny, and H. H. Lehman, intimate friends of Alfred E. Smith, the democratic presidential nominee.

NEW YORK TO KEEP TEXTILE REPORTER

Roosevelt Refuses Extradition of Crouch to Massachusetts

Albany, Feb. 28 (AP)—Governor Roosevelt today denied the extradition request of Massachusetts for Paul Crouch, wanted for alleged conspiracy in connection with the textile strike in New Bedford last year.

The case presented Governor Roosevelt today was similar to that of Frederick Heidenkapp, whose extradition on the same charge was denied last week by the governor. For this reason only he felt testimony was presented by William C. Crowley, district attorney of southern Massachusetts and Jacques Buitenkant, member of the International labor defense and counsel for Crouch.

The governor denied the request of Governor Allen of Massachusetts on two grounds. The first was used as basis for decision in the Heidenkapp case—delayed prosecution and failure to arrest the defendant although he was in Massachusetts for some time after the alleged conspiracy.

Crouch was convicted by an army court martial at Honolulu several years ago on a charge of revolution. He was imprisoned and served two and one-half years in a military prison. His counsel told Governor Roosevelt that Crouch was in New Bedford as a reporter for the Daily Worker, a New York paper at the time the Massachusetts authorities charge he conspired to violate New Bedford city laws. He was arrested as a fugitive from justice two weeks ago in New York city.

EXPERTS CONSIDER RHINELAND STATUS

Evacuation Question Taken Up in Private Conversations

Paris, Feb. 28 (AP)—Evacuation of the Rhineland by Allied troops after the problem of the reparations has been settled has not yet been mentioned officially before either committee or subcommittee of the reparations conference here.

In view of the fact that it is part of the background of the German position, however, there have been some private conversations regarding it.

The French idea is that if the subject comes up in any form before the experts the French delegates will decline to discuss it saying in effect it is difficult enough for the conference to deal with purely financial matters without complicating its work on political affairs.

It is understood Gustav Stresemann, German foreign minister, intends to bring up the subject at the meeting of the council of the league of nations at Geneva next week and consequently there may be some reaction bearing on the reparations problem among other members of the council.

reapportion its membership on the basis of the 1920 census, but the senate has agreed to take no action on it at this session.

Tilson said he thought the senate at the opening of the special session might go ahead with an agricultural bill, but he believed the house should originate the measure.

"I think the tariff bill will be very carefully drawn," he added. "We are not going to run wild on this as some have been trying to make the people believe. I have heard of no disposition on the part of any members of the ways and means committee to do this."

SOVIET-BRITISH OIL WAR SETTLED

The contract, it is believed here, foreshadows a political understanding between England and Soviet Russia.

The contract is regarded as particularly important because of a clause providing compensation for the Royal Dutch losses resulting from nationalization in profits instead of flat compensation payments, which would be difficult under existing circumstances.

Wall Street Briefs

Impressed by huge bank mergers and growth of great corporations, Wall street is heralding the true arrival of the billion dollar age. The billion dollar or more list now includes ten corporations and banks—the New Guaranty-National Bank of Commerce combine, United States Steel, Consolidated Gas, National City Bank, Chase National Bank, Standard Oil of New Jersey, American Telephone & Telegraph, International Nickel, General Motors and General Electric. U. S. Steel is rated as a $2,500,000,000 company.

Describing the buying spurt that carried the price of copper to 19 cents a pound, Engineering and Mining Journal says turbulent conditions have prevailed in the copper market in the last few days. The entry of several of the largest consumers of the metal, and failure completely to satisfy their requirements, even at higher quotations, has revealed a panicky situation.

World production of lead in January increased to 154,796 tons compared with 150,441 tons in January, 1922.

Common stockholders of Motor Products corporation, Detroit, are to vote March 25 on a proposed increase of not more than $50,000 shares of stock and on a plan for stock purchases by certain employees.

UNDERTONE STRONG IN CURB DEALINGS

Profit Taking Makes It Hard to Maintain Gains

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—The curb market displayed a fairly strong undertone, but profit taking was heavy on practically all advances, and gains were maintained with difficulty.

The utilities were conspicuously strong. American Superpower issues mounting 4 and 5 points, and Electric Bond and Share, old and new stocks, moving up 2 or 3 points. United Gas Improvement moved ahead rapidly in the early trading, but slipped back toward midday.

Motor and tire stocks were active, but irregular. Checker Cab and Firestone Tire advanced 2 and 3 points. Auburn advanced 2 points, only to fall back 4. Ford of Canada lost 7 points.

Gold Seal Electric was a strong specialty, stepping up 5 points. Fox Theater "A" maintained a strong tone, despite denial of the rumors that Fox interests had acquired control of Metro Goldwyn. Shoroon Steel Hoop forged ahead, crashing 50.

Oils were inclined to heaviness. Indiana and Imperial suffering moderate losses. South Penn was traded ex the 50 per cent stock dividend, around 41. In the mines, Newmont was strong on the sharp advances in copper prices.

BOND MARKET IN FRACTIONAL GAINS

General Improvement Is Apparent in Early Trading

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—A general improvement set in today in the early trading in the bond market, with Public Service of New Jersey 4 1-2's in the van with a 3 1-2 point rise. Other gains, however, were mostly fractional, but buying was on a broader scale.

Two new issues made their initial bow to trading. Commercial Investment Trust convertibles 5 1-2's being actively sought at their offering price of 105 and Aitchison 4 1-2's at 115 1-2.

Allghany corporation 5's and American International 5 1-2's led the improvement in the industrial and specialty group. Fractional gains also were made by Bethlehem Steel convertible 6's and National Dairy Products 5 1-2's.

International Telephone convertible 4 1-2's were heavily bought fractionally above yesterday's closing price. New York Telephone refunding 6's, however, yielded slightly to selling pressure.

Announcement that an accord had been reached by St. Louis & San Francisco and Katy railroads on a Union terminal at Tulsa encouraged buying in the former 4 1-2's. Improvement also was shown by Baltimore & Ohio issues.

30 STOCKS REACH NEW HIGH MARKS

Some Jump 50 Points Before Price Rally Is Checked

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Ten per cent call money, making its second appearance on the New York stock exchange this month, checked a promising rally in prices today. Thirty issues were marked up to new high records, a few high price specialties soaring 5 to 50 points, and a long list of popular industrial issues selling 1 to 4 points above last night's closing quotations before the mid-day trading started off at a brisk pace but showed a tendency to slow down on the reaction.

Call money renewed at 8, advanced to 9 and then to 10 as banks called loans in preparation for month-end settlements, and strengthening of their positions at the Federal Reserve bank. Loanable funds were scarce, even at the 10 per cent level, and there was a possibility that the rate might be advanced to 12 before the close.

While the unusually high call money rate was a disappointment to Wall Street, traders derived considerable encouragement from the retention of the 5 1-2 per cent rediscount rate by the Bank of England and the reply of the Federal Reserve board to the Hedin resolution that no remedial legislation was necessary at present on the brokers' loan situation.

Wall Street seems satisfied that the no increase in the New York Federal Reserve bank rediscount rate is likely until after the treasury's March 15 financing is out of the way, although an increase in loans in the weekly statement to be issued after the close would not be surprising.
